For Immediate Release:

COUNCIL BLUFFS, IOWA –RAGBRAI®, the Register’s Annual Great Bike Ride Across Iowa, will begin in Council Bluffs this summer with numerous opportunities to volunteer.

“Many leaders in our community have come forward to organize specific areas where work needs to be done to host the start of RAGBRAI,” said Mayor Tom Hanafan. “We are very pleased at the support this project is receiving. This will be a great summer for Council Bluffs.”

“We are very pleased with the enthusiasm our chairpersons have for RAGBRAI,” quoted Larry Foster, Director of Parks, Recreation, and Public Policy. “But they are looking for help from our citizens. Twenty-one separate committees will need volunteers from the community. ”

“Committee Chairpersons have volunteered from many businesses in town, and include a number of retired professionals, educators, and city employees,” said Bob Mundt, President and CEO of the Council Bluffs Chamber of Commerce.

The Committee Chairpersons are starting to work on the many details of a successful RAGBRAI 2009 in Council Bluffs. For now, the preliminary work consists of organizing duties for potential volunteers and budgets. If you are interested in working RAGBRAI, please go to our website www.councilbluffsragbrai.org and click on one of the tabs to volunteer or for more information.

The dates of RAGBRAI in Council Bluffs are July 18-19, 2009, in the Mid-America Center area.
